Riya - incident account

SYNTHETIC FIRST-PERSON ACCOUNT | Not an official complaint or police form

Recorded: 13 September 2026, 15:00 IST. Case: PARAKH-SYN-RIYA-001

I am Riya, a fictional person. On 12 September I contacted someone using the display name Agent Arjun after seeing an investment advertisement. They promised guaranteed returns, sent a KYC link and persuaded me to make two INR 25,000 payments to arjun.collect@demo.

When I asked for a refund, the contact sent a receipt claiming INR 50,000 had been returned. I did not see that credit in my supplied statement through 13 September. I refused a further INR 5,000 release-fee request.

I used an Android phone and an older linked tablet. The tablet clock was 30 minutes slow before a manual sync at 09:50 IST. The tablet chat file is an excerpt; missing messages in that excerpt do not establish deletion.

I provide chats, my account statement, the received receipt, location history, call export, browser history and emails. I do not know the legal identity of the contact. The investigator separately obtained the collection account and tower records in this synthetic scenario.

This fictional account is a source assertion to compare against the records, not independent proof of every statement. No real address, signature, Aadhaar, PAN, OTP or phone number is included.
